

Thomas MacEntee

Author, Educator, and Genealogy Expert

Hello! I've been referred to your organization as a possible venue for genealogy lectures in the near or even far-off future. You may be unfamiliar with my work and my lectures in the genealogy community, so I've put together some information for you to review as you prepare for speaking events over the next few months.

Thomas MacEntee

What happens when a “tech guy” with a love for history gets laid off during The Great Recession of 2008? You get Thomas MacEntee, a genealogy professional based in the United States who is also a blogger, educator, author, social media connector, online community builder and more. Thomas has over 42 years of experience researching family history

Thomas was laid off after a 25-year career in the information technology field, so he started his own genealogy-related business called High Definition Genealogy. Currently Thomas shares many of his articles and videos for free at the popular Genealogy Bargains website!

Thomas describes himself as a lifelong learner with a background in a multitude of topics who has finally figured out what he does best: teach, inspire, instigate, and serve as a curator and go-to-guy for concept nurturing and inspiration. Thomas is a big believer in success, and that we all succeed when we help each other find success.

Rates and Speaking Formats

I am a nationally known speaker on the genealogy circuit, familiar to many through over 80 webinars at Legacy Family Tree Webinars and lectures at national conferences. Typically, I present close to 100 lectures each year and have done so since 2010.

Live, In-Person Lectures and Fees

As of May 2020, I am no longer appearing in-person at genealogy events and conferences. See <https://genealogybargains.com/heres-why-i-will-no-longer-speak-in-person-at-genealogy-events/>

Webinars, Virtual Workshops and Fees

I am available to present lectures “virtually” to your society via Zoom. Webinars have become standard within the genealogy community and these virtual education platforms allow attendees to see me via webcam before and during the lecture. My platform accounts allow up to 500 attendees in each event from home as well.

Webinars

- On site at the meeting or event, your society will need to provide items such as a) computer; b) a projector hooked up to the computer; c) a screen to project on to; d) speakers hooked up to the computer – so that the audience would be able to hear the presentation; and e) an Internet connection – WiFi will work but it has to be a strong signal. Direct connection (broadband or DSL is better)
- From home, attendees simply register for the webinar, receive reminders and handouts via email.

And then I provide the following:

- Virtual education platform used to connect to the webinar; or I can use your society's preferred platform
- A handout – minimum four pages
- Webinar recording
- A copy of the registration/attendance report (for "from home" events only).

My current fee is $100 for a 60-minute webinar as part of a regularly scheduled society meeting. I provide the platform software and I record the presentation for the society to use in its member's only section of its website. This offer is good only for one (1) webinar per day; online events with more than one webinar have a different price structure. Contact me for details.

Workshops

My current fee is $1,500 for a four (4) lecture configuration as part of an all-day seminar. I provide the platform software and I record each presentation for the society to use in its member's only section of its website. Realize that your society is getting more than just four (4) one-hour webinars. I handle registration, attendance and reporting issues as well as troubleshoot participant connection issues. I log all questions and produce a Question Log for attendees to access after the event. Also, there is great value in the recordings, allowing you to meet your society's educational mission and keeping your members engaged after the live event.

Schedule and Speaking Contract

My schedule is available at <https://genealogybargains.com/upcoming-engagements/> . It lists dates when I am booked – if a date is not listed, it is safe to assume that I am available.

Finally, I do use a speaking contract that outlines various provisions and provides for cancellation in case of technical difficulties, rescheduling etc. This contract protects the society as much as it does me. At the time the contract is signed, a 50% deposit on the speaking fee may be required for new clients when the contract is returned. Then on the day of the event or shortly thereafter, the balance of the fee will be invoiced and payable.

I look forward to working together in the future – and please don't hesitate to contact me with questions or even request customized lectures. I am easy to work with and I know I can help you plan a successful event for your organization!
